

Come Holy Spirit, Enkindle In Me The Holy Fire of Your Love

*Come Holy Spirit, so I can move on and move forward in my spiritual journey...
To live and breathe and think as You desire. Come Holy Spirit dwell within me today.
I need your fire of Love. I desire the gifts I need to live a life of holiness.
I need You so badly.
I am so wanting—so weak in the flesh, come and empower your child to work only for you.
To desire only what you want for my life.
Come Holy Spirit and breathe on me. Allow me to feel your breath.
Come to my aid, so I can fulfill the plan you have for my life.
In Jesus' name. Amen.*

DON'T reject anyone.
I needed to learn humility.
I needed a thorn, a wound to learn what love isabout
Love isn't flowers and living on cloud 9.
Love is in the drudgery, the mundane tasks in life.
Love is in obedience when you don't feel like doing what others want.
Love is letting go of my ego.
Love is letting go of my control.
Love is humility.
Love is sacrifice.
Love is going without happiness in my heart.
Love is choosing to chose love.
Love is acting out of love for others with patience and kindness.
Love is not arrogant or rude, Love doesn't insist on its own way.
Love is acceptance of another person without criticism.
To love takes a lifetime of practice.
Love is a joy, a gift from God.
How much He loves me, and how little do I truly return His beautiful Love.
How little do I reflect His mercy.
O Lord strengthen me...to love from the heart, to be a reflection of your love.
For you so loved the world, that You gave your only begotten Son that me might have life everlasting.
In Jesus' name Amen.
